Tennessee Department of Labor and Workforce Development Breaks Ground on New Building

NASHVILLE-Tennessee Department of Labor & Workforce Development Commissioner Michael E. Magill announces a groundbreaking ceremony for the new TDLWD building in Knoxville. The ceremony is Friday, May 24, at 10:00 a.m., at 1610 University Avenue.

The new building will house TOSHA, Labor Standards, Worker's Compensation, and their legal staff, Unemployment Insurance Tax, and the department's One-Stop Comprehensive Career Center. In the past, people had to visit several difficult to access locations for help with TDLWD services and parking was scarce, but, soon Knoxville will be able to go to one convenient, accessible site with plenty of parking. The Tennessee Department of Labor & Workforce Development is working together with the Knoxville Community Development Corporation on this federally funded project.

Media is invited to attend.
